(a) specially created for the purpose of holding margined client money; and
(b) segregated from any account holding any other client money.

(3) Subject to paragraph (4), a licenceholder must hold any margined client money in a client bank account referred to in paragraph (2), and no other money may be held in such an account.

(4) When a licenceholder undertakes margined transactions with or for a client under the rules of an exchange and in the types of contracts traded on that exchange, the licenceholder may, instead of paying margined client money into a client bank account, pay it to the exchange or an intermediate broker to be credited to the licenceholder’s client account with the exchange and to be dealt with in accordance with its rules and regulations.

(5) The licenceholder may withdraw money from a client bank account referred to in paragraph (2) where it is properly payable to an exchange, an intermediate broker or the licenceholder’s client account with an exchange.

(6) A licenceholder must hold in such an account initial margins calculated in accordance with paragraph (7) on each client’s positions (not on the overall net position across all clients).

(7) For the purpose of paragraph (6) the initial margin to be held for any client at any time is the total amount which, under the rules of the relevant exchange, the licenceholder or intermediate broker would be required to deposit in cash or approved collateral as a fidelity deposit in respect of all that client’s open positions in margined transactions at that time, irrespective of any unrealised profit or loss on such positions.

(8) Where —

(a) margins required by an exchange or intermediate broker in respect of any one client have not been received from the client; and
(b) the licenceholder does not pay the required amount direct to the exchange or broker, the licenceholder must itself pay the required amount into the relevant client bank account.

(9) A licenceholder must ensure that, on each business day, \( A \) is not less than \( B \) where —

\[ A = \text{the total, as at the close of business on the immediately preceding business day, of} \]

(a) the aggregate of the balances on all the licenceholder’s client bank accounts referred to in paragraph (2);
(b) the net aggregate of the licenceholder’s equity balances with exchanges and with intermediate brokers; and

(c) the value of approved collateral deposited with the licenceholder, whether held by it or by an intermediate broker;

“B” = the aggregate of the required contributions of all the licenceholder’s clients as at the close of business on the immediately preceding business day.

(10) In this rule —

a client’s “equity balance” with a licenceholder at any time is the amount which —

(a) the licenceholder would be liable to pay to the client; or

(b) the client would be liable to pay to the licenceholder, in respect of the client’s margined transactions if each of the open positions were liquidated at the closing or settlement prices, and a licenceholder’s “equity balance” with an exchange or with an intermediate broker has a corresponding meaning;

“margined client money” means client money held or received for the purpose or in the course of a margined transaction;

“margined transaction” means a transaction effected by a licenceholder with or for a client relating to an option, future or contract for differences under the terms of which the client will or may be liable to make deposits in cash or collateral to ensure the performance of obligations which the client may have to perform when the transaction falls to be completed or upon the earlier closing out of the position;

“option”, “future” and “contract for differences” mean investments falling within paragraphs (g), (h) and (i) respectively of the definition of “investment” in Schedule 2 to the Order;

a client’s “required contribution” is the greater of —

(a) the amount of the client’s initial margin at that time, calculated in accordance with paragraph (7); and

(b) the aggregate of the client’s equity balance at that time and the amount of the value of the approved collateral which the client has provided to the licenceholder.

3.21A Client money requirement

The client money requirement is either —

(a) subject to rule 3.21E(1), the sum of, for all clients —

(i) the individual client balances calculated in accordance with rule 3.21B(1), excluding —
(A) individual client balances which are negative (i.e. debtors); and

(B) clients’ equity balances; and

(ii) the total margined transaction requirement calculated in accordance with rule 3.21D(1); or

(b) the sum of —

(i) for each client bank account —

(A) the amount which the licenceholder’s records show as held on that account; and

(B) an amount which offsets each negative net amount which the licenceholder’s records show attributed to that account for an individual client; and

(ii) the total margined transaction requirement calculated in accordance with rule 3.21D(1).

3.21B General transactions

(1) The individual client balance for each client should be calculated in accordance with the following table.

Individual client balance “X” = (A+B+C1+C2+D+E1+E2)-F-G

(2) A licenceholder should calculate the individual client balance using the contract value of any client purchases or sales.

(3) A licenceholder may choose to segregate investments instead of the value identified in paragraph (1) (except E1) if it ensures that the investments are held in such a manner that the licenceholder cannot use them for its own purposes.

(4) Segregation in the context of paragraph (3) can take many forms, including the holding of a safe custody investment in a nominee name and the safekeeping of certificates evidencing title in a fire resistant safe.

(5) In determining the client money requirement under rule 3.21A, a licenceholder need not include money held in accordance with rule 3.21E(3) (delivery versus payment transaction).

(6) In determining the client money requirement under rule 3.21A, a licenceholder —

(a) should include dividends received and interest earned and allocated;

(b) may deduct outstanding fees, calls, rights and interest charges and other amounts owed by the client which are due and payable to the licenceholder;

(c) should take into account any client money arising from reconciliation discrepancies; and

(d) should include any unallocated client money.

3.21C Equity balance

A licenceholder’s equity balance is the amount which the licenceholder would be liable to pay in respect of the licenceholder’s margined transactions if each of the open positions of the licenceholder’s clients was liquidated at the closing or settlement prices published by the relevant exchange or other appropriate pricing source and the licenceholder’s account is closed.

3.21D Margined transaction requirement

(1) The total margined transaction requirement is —

(a) the sum of each of the clients’ equity balances which are positive; less

(b) the proportion of any individual negative client equity balance which is secured by appropriate collateral; and

(c) the net aggregation of the licenceholder’s equity balance (negative balances being deducted from positive balances) on transaction accounts for customers with exchanges and counterparties.
(2) To meet a shortfall that has arisen in respect of the requirement in rule 3.21A(a)(ii) or (b)(ii), a licenceholder may utilise its own appropriate collateral provided it is held on terms specifying when it is to be realised for the benefit of clients, it is clearly identifiable from the licenceholder’s own property and the relevant terms are evidenced in writing by the licenceholder. In addition, the proceeds of the sale of that collateral should be paid into a client bank account.

(3) If a licenceholder’s total margined transaction requirement is negative, the licenceholder should treat it as zero for the purposes of calculating its client money requirement.

(4) The terms “client equity balance” and “licenceholder’s equity balance” in rule 3.21C refer to cash values and do not include non-cash collateral or other investments held in respect of a margined transaction.

3.21E Reduced client money requirement option

(1) When, in respect of a client —

(a) there is a positive individual client balance and a negative client equity balance, a licenceholder may offset the credit against the debit and hence have a reduced individual client balance in rule 3.21B(1) for that client;

(b) there is a negative individual client balance and a positive client equity balance, a licenceholder may offset the credit against the debit and hence have a reduced individual client equity balance in rule 3.21D(1) for that client.

(2) The effect of paragraph (1) is to allow a licenceholder to offset, on a client by client basis, a negative amount with a positive amount arising out of the calculations in rules 3.21B(1) and 3.21D(1), and, by so doing, reduce the amount the licenceholder is require to segregate.

(3) Money need not be treated as client money in respect of a delivery versus payment transaction through a commercial settlement system if it is intended that either:

(a) in respect of a client’s purchase, money from a client will be due to the licenceholder within one business day upon the fulfilment of a delivery obligation; or

(b) in respect of a client’s sale, money is due to the client within one business day following the client’s fulfilment of a delivery obligation, unless the delivery or payment by the licenceholder does not occur by the close of business on the third business day following the date of payment or delivery of the investments by the client.

3.22 Accounts for clients’ free money and settlement money

(1) A licenceholder may not operate a client settlement account —

(a) without the consent of the Commission; or

(b) otherwise than in accordance with such conditions as the Commission may impose.

(2) For the avoidance of doubt, a licenceholder may operate a client free money account without the consent of the Commission.

(b) it can at all times be sure how much trust money stands to the credit of each trust.

(3) Rules 3.10 to 3.14 apply to trust money paid into a client account in accordance with rule 3.26(b) as they apply to client money with the substitution, for references to a client, of references to the trust concerned or to the trustees of that trust, as the case may require.

3.29 Reconciliation

(1) A licenceholder must reconcile the balance on each trust bank account as recorded by the licenceholder, with the balance on that account as set out in the statement issued by the bank at which the account is held.

This reconciliation must be conducted with the following frequency —

(2) The assessment of the frequency of custody reconciliations referred to in paragraph (1) must be reviewed annually.

(3) The minimum requirements for the frequency of custody reconciliations of a client’s investments are —

(2) A licenceholder which is not a participant in a scheme established by regulations under section 25 of the Act must not publish or cause or permit to be published any advertisement which refers to its deposit taking business or contains an invitation to make deposits unless it states in a prominent position that the licenceholder is not a participant in that scheme.
6.17A Reference to group ownership

In any literature and advertising material that invites the making of deposits, a licenceholder must disclose the relationship between it and the wider group of which it is a part, including information relating to the financial standing of the licenceholder and the group.

Chapter 3 — General requirements for all investment businesses

6.18 Application

(1) This Chapter applies to all licenceholders licensed to carry on regulated activities falling within Class 2.

(2) Subject to paragraph (1), when a licenceholder is acting on an execution only basis and this is in compliance with rule 6.18A, rules 6.19, 6.20, 6.28, 6.29, 6.30, 6.31, 6.31A, 6.34, 6.35, 6.36 and 6.41 do not apply.

(3) Subject to paragraph (1), where a licenceholder is undertaking activities on a limited advice basis only, rules 6.30 and 6.35 apply only in relation to the extent of the information provided.

(4) Rules 6.18A(2) and (3), 6.29(2) and (3), 6.34(4) and (5) do not apply to a licenceholder that is licensed to carry on regulated activities falling within Class 2(1) to (7) inclusive or Class 2(2) to (7) inclusive.

(5) Rules 6.29(2) and (3), 6.34(4) and (5) do not apply to a licenceholder that is licensed to carry on regulated activities falling within Class 2(3) to (7) inclusive when acting under a discretionary mandate.

6.18A Extent of advice

(1) A licenceholder must not undertake regulated activities on an execution only basis for a client unless the client has requested to be treated as an execution only client —

(a) in respect of a particular transaction; or

(b) for the purposes of all transactions, and the licenceholder has confirmed the execution only status in writing, pointing out the consequent reduction in investor protection to the client.

(2) A licenceholder must not undertake regulated activities on a limited advice basis for a client unless the client has stated that he seeks only limited advice and the licenceholder has confirmed the limited advice status in writing, pointing out the consequent reduction in investor protection to the client.

(3) A licenceholder that —

(a) is restricted in the range or type of investments on which it is permitted to advise; or
(b) is offering a restricted or limited service, must not undertake any regulated activity for a client unless it has confirmed these limitations in writing.

(4) A copy of the licenceholder’s confirmation to the client in (1), (2) or (3) must be retained on the client file.

(5) Where a licenceholder is not able to evidence that its advice is in accordance with (1), (2) or (3), it will be considered to be a full advice arrangement with the client, and must be in compliance with all requirements relating to such advice.

6.19 Recommendations which may benefit licenceholder

(1) A licenceholder must not recommend to a retail investor a transaction if the recommendation is motivated largely by a benefit which it may bring to the licenceholder, unless the transaction is demonstrably to the client’s advantage.

(2) In this rule "benefit" includes a volume override (that is, an extra commission for generating additional trades).

6.20 Churning

A licenceholder must not effect a series of transactions that are each suitable when viewed in isolation, but which may be unsuitable if the recommendations or the decisions to trade are made with a frequency that is not in the best interests of the client.

6.21 Valuation of investments which are not marketable

(1) This rule applies where a licenceholder manages investments on behalf of a client and the amount of any remuneration of the licenceholder is dependent upon the value of any such investments.

(2) The valuation of any investment which is not readily marketable, or for which information for determining its current value may not be available, must be on the basis of an arm’s length valuation which has been —

(a) prepared by or confirmed as an arm’s length valuation by an independent and competent person; or

(b) agreed expressly with the client at the time that the management agreement is signed.

6.22 Front running

A licenceholder must not enter, or permit any person associated with the licenceholder to enter, into an investment transaction ahead of a client, if that client ought to have priority.
6.23 Fairness in allocation

Where, on an allocation of stock or other investments, there is not enough to go round, the licenceholder must always —

(a) allocate what it has fairly and uniformly; and

(b) put itself last unless its participation in the transaction enabled every participant to get a better deal.

6.24 Distribution of transactions among clients

A licenceholder must not allocate or transfer to any client any deal (or part of a deal) in an investment which it entered into as principal unless —

(a) the allocation or transfer was unconditionally decided upon in principle before the deal was done; or

(b) the investment has improved in value since the deal, the licenceholder is satisfied that the investment is suitable for the client and the client obtains the benefit of best execution and of the improvement in value.

6.25 Skill, care and diligence

Rules 6.26 to 6.32 are without prejudice to rule 6.2.

6.26 Prompt and timely execution

(1) A licenceholder must act promptly in accordance with its instructions, unless —

(a) it has been given a discretion as to timing; and

(b) it uses that discretion in an alert and sensible way.

(2) Instructions and decisions to buy or sell must be recorded as soon as taken, with the date and, whenever possible, the time.

6.27 Best execution

(1) Subject to paragraph (2), a licenceholder must not transact business for a client on worse terms than it would expect to obtain for itself, allowing for the size of the transaction.

(2) Where a licenceholder effects a transaction through —

(a) another licenceholder; or

(b) a person authorised and regulated for this activity by the Financial Conduct Authority in the United Kingdom, it may rely upon that person to obtain best execution provided that the client has accepted those arrangements in writing.

6.28 Fairness with research or analysis

A licenceholder must not —

(a) deal for itself or any person associated with it ahead of the distribution of its own or an associate’s research or analysis and with advance knowledge of anything that might possibly be price sensitive in it; or

(b) distribute research or analysis containing recommendations from which a licenceholder expects to benefit (including by way of past or future principal transactions, or because of a material interest) unless the anticipated source of benefit is disclosed; or

(c) otherwise behave unfairly in the way in which it acts upon its own or an associate’s research or analysis.

6.29 Knowledge of client

(1) A licenceholder must find out enough about a retail investor’s personal and financial circumstances, investment objectives, attitude to risk and time horizons to enable it to act properly for him in investment matters.

(2) Where a licenceholder is providing investment advice, it must —

(a) complete a fact-find which must be signed by the client;

(b) provide a copy of the signed fact-find to the client; and

(c) retain a copy of the signed fact-find on the client’s file.

(3) The fact-find must be updated prior to a licenceholder undertaking new business for a client and the steps in paragraph (2) (a), (b) and (c) must be repeated during subsequent business transactions.

(4) A licenceholder must maintain a record on the client file of all communication with the client about his financial advice.

6.29A Vulnerable clients

A licenceholder must establish and implement a policy in relation to the provision of advice to vulnerable clients. This policy must include requirements —

(a) for advisers to consider the special factors regarding the client’s potential vulnerability;

(b) to ensure that advice provided to the client takes into account such vulnerability; and

(c) to document in the client file the factors in (a) and (b).

6.30 Suitability

(1) A licenceholder must ensure —
(a) in making recommendations to a client;
(b) in exercising discretion; and
(c) in advising about the client’s instructions, having taken reasonable steps to inform itself of what is available on the market —

(i) that any transaction is not unsuitable for the client; and
(ii) if he is a retail investor, that it is positively suitable for him.

(2) A licenceholder must ensure that a retail investor is only recommended products suitable for his circumstances (including attitude to risk, time horizon for the investment, age, state of health and any vulnerability in terms of rule 6.29A).

(3) When making a recommendation, a licenceholder must maintain a record of those products it has considered, including those it has rejected as well as those it has recommended as being the most suitable.

6.31 Life policies

(1) This rule applies in respect of retail investors only.

(2) A licenceholder must not recommend to any client the acquisition of a life policy unless it is satisfied that —

(a) it will be suitable for the client; and
(b) it does not compare unfavourably with competing products.

(3) A licenceholder must not recommend to any client a switch of any underlying investment in a life policy unless it —

(a) reasonably believes that the switch will be to the client’s advantage; and
(b) can demonstrate to the Commission, if required, the basis of that belief.

(4) Instructions and decisions to acquire a life policy or switch an underlying investment must be recorded as soon as taken, with the date and, whenever possible, the time.

6.31A Collective investment schemes

(1) This rule applies in respect of retail investors only and does not apply to transactions undertaken under a discretionary mandate.

(2) A licenceholder must not recommend to any client the acquisition of units in a collective investment scheme unless it is satisfied —

(a) that it will be suitable for the client; and
(b) that it does not compare unfavourably with other investments.
(3) A licenceholder must not recommend to any client a switch from one sub-fund to another in a collective investment scheme unless it —

(a) reasonably believes that the switch will be to the client’s advantage; and

(b) can demonstrate to the Commission, if required, the basis of that belief.

(4) Instructions and decisions to acquire units in a collective investment scheme or switch between sub-funds must be recorded as soon as taken, with the date and, whenever possible, the time.

6.32 Restriction on authority conferred by product companies

A licenceholder that is a tied agent must prohibit by the terms of employment or contract its employees who are authorised to canvass for business from canvassing for or advising about life policies or collective investment schemes other than its own.

6.33 Dealings by employees on own account

(1) This rule applies where —

(a) an employee of a licenceholder is permitted to deal on his own account; and

(b) a conflict of interest may arise in relation to such dealings.

(2) The licenceholder must ensure that —

(a) the employee is given a written notice (a "personal account notice") complying with Appendix 6; and

(b) the employee gives the licenceholder a written undertaking to observe the requirements of the notice.

(3) The licenceholder must establish and maintain compliance procedures and appropriate arrangements to mitigate the potential for conflicts of interest in relation to such dealings.

6.34 Disclosure and information

(1) A licenceholder must take all reasonable steps to ensure that a retail investor is given sufficient information which he is able to understand to enable him to make balanced and informed investment decisions.

(2) The client must be given sufficient time to consider recommendations made prior to the arrangement of any deals.

(3) Details of the product selection process, including a copy of the research undertaken and the rationale for the advice must be retained.
(4) Where a licenceholder is providing investment advice, prior to the arrangement of any deals the client must be provided with a comprehensive reasons why letter which contains a full explanation of the benefits and risks of any recommendation.

The reasons why letter must —

(a) be tailored to the client’s situation;
(b) be in plain, jargon-free English;
(c) include —

(i) a summary of the client’s financial position, including any limitations of information provided by the client;

(ii) a balanced rationale for the recommendations made, including details of the recommended products’ characteristics and risks, and why those products are suitable for the particular client;

(iii) product literature or illustrations where available;

(iv) details as to whether each product has a cooling off period, and where there is no cooling off period, a statement informing the client of the risk of losing a substantial amount of his investment if he changes his mind and decides, after starting the investment, not to continue with it;

(v) a cost benefit analysis of any switches or surrenders, or gearing and why these are in the best interests of the client; and

(vi) whether an annual review will or will not be undertaken on the investments.

A copy of the reasons why letter must be retained on the client’s file.

(5) Where the licenceholder will receive any commission or other remuneration, payment or benefit howsoever arising as a result of the transaction being undertaken or service being provided, the licenceholder must disclose that sum (or the formula for its calculation if the amount is unknown, together with a clear and simple example of the calculation) to the client prior to the transaction being undertaken or service being provided.

6.35 Understanding of risk

(1) This rule applies where a client is a retail investor.

(2) A licenceholder must not —

(a) recommend a transaction to the client; or
(b) exercise discretion for the client in the management of investments, unless it has taken reasonable steps —

(i) to ascertain the nature and level of the risk which the client is willing to accept; and

(ii) to enable him to understand the nature and level of the risks involved.

(3) Without prejudice to the generality of paragraph (2), a licenceholder must not —

(a) advise the client to deal, or deal with or for him, in unregulated collective investment schemes, futures, options, contracts for differences or warrants, unless it has arranged for the client to receive, and the client has by returning a signed copy shown that he has understood, a risk disclosure statement in the form specified in —

(i) Part 1 of Appendix 7, in the case of dealings in unregulated collective investment schemes;

(ii) Part 2 of Appendix 7, in the case of dealings in futures, options or contracts for differences; or

(iii) Part 3 of Appendix 7, in the case of dealings in warrants, or unless the client has signed a ‘discretionary management client agreement’ that contains the disclosures contained in (i), (ii) or (iii) as applicable in accordance with rule 6.42(4); or

(b) advise him to buy or effect in the exercise of discretion any purchase of an illiquid investment, unless it has —

(i) informed the client of the nature and extent of the risks involved in such investments, including any difficulties in determining their value; and

(ii) obtained his written consent.

6.36 Disclosure of product particulars

(1) A licenceholder must ensure that, before or immediately after a recommendation is made by it or on its behalf to acquire an investment to which rule 6.31 or rule 6.31A applies, and before a commitment is made to acquire the investment, a retail investor is given or sent a statement, prepared by the licenceholder or the product provider, which informs him of —

(a) details of the investment;

(b) premiums or other amounts payable then and in the future;
(c) the factors relevant to the ultimate value of the investment or benefits payable under it;
(d) the consequences of not keeping up the payments; and
(e) any surrender or transfer value.

(2) This rule does not apply where the licenceholder is acting under the terms of a discretionary management agreement.

6.37 Disclosure of conflicts of interest

(1) Any borrowing from a client must be disclosed to the client.

(2) Without prejudice to paragraph (1), where the conflicts of interest policy referred to in rule 8.7 is not sufficient to ensure, with reasonable confidence, that risks of damage to the interests of its clients will be prevented, a licenceholder must clearly disclose the general nature or sources, or both, of conflicts of interest to the client before carrying on any activity on its behalf.

(3) The disclosure required by paragraph (1) or (2) must —

(a) be in writing; and
(b) include sufficient detail, taking into account the nature of the client, to enable him to take an informed decision with respect to the activity in the context of which the conflict of interest arises.

6.38 General need for client agreement or terms of business

(1) Subject to paragraph (2), a licenceholder must not carry on any regulated activity for a client unless either —

6.39 Retail and other investors

(1) A licenceholder shall treat a client who is an individual as a retail investor unless —
   (a) the licenceholder has undertaken an adequate assessment of the client’s relevant expertise, experience and knowledge, which gives a reasonable assurance that the client is capable of understanding the risks involved in making his own investment decisions. This assessment must be evidenced in writing and retained on the client’s file;
   (b) the licenceholder has informed him in writing that the level of protection afforded to him is lower than that offered to a retail investor; and

(a) writing of options and doing business in futures and contracts for differences;

the agreement must specifically state whether such transactions are permitted and any limits on the category of investment or on the financial commitment involved.

6.45 Penalty on termination

Where the client is a retail investor, the client agreement may provide for an additional payment to be made to the licenceholder upon the termination of the agreement, but this must be clearly disclosed in the client agreement.

6.46 Risk warning – futures, options and contracts for differences

(1) A licenceholder must ensure, before it enters into any transaction in futures, options and contracts for differences with or for a retail investor, that the investor receives, signs and returns to the licenceholder a risk disclosure statement in the form set out in Appendix 7.

(2) This rule does not apply where the licenceholder is acting under the terms of a discretionary management client agreement that contains disclosures in accordance with rule 6.42(4).

6.47 Contracts to be on-exchange

(e) make the client aware of the consequences of not paying a margin.

(2) Where a licenceholder is effecting margined transactions as a discretionary portfolio manager or stockbroker, it must ascertain from —

(a) the person referred to in rule 6.47(1); or whether or not the licenceholder is responsible for the fulfilment of its clients’ obligations.

(3) If there is a shortfall on a margined transaction, the licenceholder must make up the difference until it obtains more cash or collateral from its client.

(4) Where a licenceholder lends money to a client to make up such a shortfall, it must properly record the loan in its accounts.

(5) In this rule "limited liability transaction" means a margined transaction effected by a licenceholder with a client, the terms of which provide that the maximum liability of the client in respect of the transaction shall be limited to an amount determined before the transaction is effected.
6.49 Contract note etc.

(1) After a transaction has been carried out for a client, a licenceholder must send or cause to be sent to the client or to his order promptly a statement of the transaction.

NET TANGIBLE ASSETS FOR MINIMUM NET TANGIBLE ASSET REQUIREMENT (Part E) AND LIQUID CAPITAL CALCULATION (Part B)

Capital and Reserves. Capital and reserves are to be based on the balance sheet (reporting) date calculated in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in the UK, International Financial Reporting Standards, Statement of Recommended Practice or other internationally accepted accounting standards.
A licenceholder may include freehold and leasehold land and buildings at a valuation taken as its open market value on an existing use basis, if it has been valued by a qualified surveyor or valuer within the preceding 18 months, or in other cases its net book value. The Commission may require evidence of the valuation or request that a valuation be carried out at the licenceholder’s expense.
Where the licenceholder is licensed to carry on Class 8(2)(a) or 8(4) regulated activity —
(a) relevant funds must not be included in the calculation of financial resources; but
(b) any restricted funds may be included in the calculation of financial resources.

Note 2
Goodwill and other intangible assets. Disallowed.

Note 3
Shortfall in attributable net assets of a subsidiary or associated company compared with the book value of the investment in that subsidiary or associated company.
The shortfall should be calculated as the accumulated losses of the subsidiary or associated company not the net liability figure. Provision should be made for this deficiency or (in the case of an associated company) the portion attributable to the licenceholder as well as deducting the full book value of the investment as a fixed asset investment.
Where an adjustment has been made to the book value of an investment in a subsidiary or associated company in calculating the net tangible assets only the adjusted amount should be deducted to avoid double counting, but where there is a deficiency of net tangible assets in a subsidiary or associated companies, this must not be added back.

Note 4 Qualifying subordinated loans. A loan to a licenceholder may be treated as a qualifying subordinated loan for the purposes of this rule provided that —

(a) it is in the same form as the model issued by the Commission and it is signed by authorised signatories of all of the parties; and

(b) the licenceholder’s net tangible assets are in excess of its minimum share capital requirement.

For the purpose of this calculation, only the amount of the loan actually advanced and outstanding may be counted as a qualifying subordinated loan.

A licenceholder must obtain the prior written approval of the Commission before the repayment, prepayment or termination of a subordinated loan.

Note 5

Debtors > 90 days

Debtors which are more than 90 days overdue must be treated as illiquid and be disallowed.

Work in progress > 90 days

WIP not billable and collectable within 90 days must be treated as illiquid and be disallowed.

Prepayments > 90 days

Any prepayment relating to a period after 90 days must be treated as illiquid and be disallowed.

Amounts due from related parties

All amounts due from related parties (including shareholders, directors and connected companies) are considered to be illiquid and must be disallowed unless:

- they have a fixed repayment term of three months or less; or
- they arise in the normal course of business and are settled every 60 days.

Amounts due from related parties cannot be netted-off against amounts due to related parties unless there is a legally enforceable netting agreement in place, and with the prior consent of the Commission to allow settlement on a net basis.

Any other relevant items

A licenceholder must exercise appropriate judgement to include any items here that may not be covered by the defined categories of illiquid asset adjustments but nevertheless would be considered illiquid.

| Note 7 | Amounts given as guarantees or charges over assets. Where a licensed entity has obtained approval from the Commission to enter into a guarantee arrangement or give a charge over its assets, the amount of the guarantee and/or charge should be deducted from the Liquid Capital as follows — |
|        | • In respect of a mortgage or charge over assets in respect of a loan: the amount of the capital and interest outstanding; |
|        | • In respect of a floating charge: the amount secured by the charge; |
|        | • In respect of a guarantee for a specific amount: the amount guaranteed; |
|        | • In respect of an unlimited guarantee in respect of borrowings: the amount of existing loans drawn down, over which the guarantee is in force. |
|        | A contingent liability in respect of a Government grant for a specific expense is not regarded as a guarantee or charge for the purposes of the calculation. |

| Note 8 | Bank loans and lease obligations > 1 year. |
|        | All such longer term liabilities can be added back. |

| Note 9 | Non refundable deferred income. |
|        | Where the licenceholder has received income (e.g. in the form of annual fees billed in advance) which is non-refundable under the terms of the contract this amount should be added back. |

| Note 10 | Any other relevant items |
|         | A licenceholder must obtain the Commission’s consent to add back any other items here that may not be covered by the defined categories of adjustments (excluding subordinated loans already added back in the calculation of net tangible assets – see also Note 4). |

</table>

Note 11 Calculation of Annual Audited Expenditure ("AAE") and Expenditure Based Requirement ("EBR")

Where the relevant audited financial statements are for a period other than a year, the annual audited expenditure shall be calculated on a proportional basis in accordance with the following calculation —

\text{(annual audited expenditure)} \times \frac{12}{\text{length of period of financial statements in months}}

A licenceholder must, if required by the Commission, or may, if agreed with the Commission, adjust its relevant annual expenditure where:

(a) there has been a significant change in the circumstances or activities of the licenceholder; or

(b) the licenceholder has a material proportion of its expenditure incurred on its behalf by third parties and such expenditure is not fully recharged to the licenceholder; or

(c) it is a licenceholder’s first period of account.

The Expenditure Based Requirement shall be determined by reference to the Annual Audited Expenditure. (See also Note 12)

Note 12 Operating expenses

Per audited financial statements.

All expenses should be included in operating expenses except where:

- commissions are paid to third parties but only where this is based on a percentage of earned commission or other income by the licenceholder and included in turnover. In such instances, the commissions or other income paid/payable must be treated as a “cost of sale” rather than an operating expense within the Profit and Loss or the Income and Expenditure Account; and/or

- another regulated company (in the same group) provides client related services to the licenceholder under a formal agreement and the fees paid / payable to that group company are reasonable and directly attributable to the fees earned by the licenceholder. In such circumstances the fees paid / payable may be treated as a “cost of sale” rather than an overhead expense within the Profit and Loss or the Income and Expenditure Account.

The Commission expects licenceholders and their auditors to break down operating expenses appropriately for the regulated activity being undertaken. If items are consolidated, the Commission may request a further detailed breakdown.

Fees, brokerage and other charges paid to clearing houses, exchanges, approved exchanges and intermediate brokers for the purposes of executing, registering or clearing transactions may be treated as a “cost of sale”.

Note 1

Interest payable

“Netting off” is not permitted under any circumstances, for example, interest payable must not be “netted off” against interest receivable. Interest payable must be treated as an expense.

Other expenses

As agreed in advance with the Commission.

Discretionary bonuses etc.

Any form of discretionary (i.e. not contractual) profit related bonus payable to employees, Directors, Partners or Proprietors made can be deducted from operating expenses for the purposes of the expenditure based requirement.

Bad debt expense

Where a bad debt provision relates to a debtor that has been disallowed in the calculation of liquid capital, the related expense may be included as an adjustment when arriving at the Annual Audited Expenditure.

Exceptional and extraordinary costs

Exceptional items as agreed in advance with the Commission.

Extraordinary items either as defined in UK FRS 3, or IAS 1. Examples given in IAS1 include asset write downs, restructuring costs, profit or loss on disposal of assets, discontinuing operations and reversal of provision. Litigation settlements would not be acceptable as deductions unless the litigation concluded during the relevant financial year and there are no ongoing costs.

Appendix 4 — Calculation of Counterparty Risk Requirement (rule 2.44)

Frequency of calculation.
1. A licenceholder must calculate its counterparty risk requirement ("CRR") at least once each business day; for the purposes of the relevant calculations the licenceholder may use prices of investments and physical commodities as at the close of business on the previous day.

Negative amounts.
2. A licenceholder must not include any CRR if it is a negative amount.

Instruments for which no CRR has been specified.
3. Where a licenceholder is in doubt as to the classification of an item for the purposes of CRR, it must promptly seek advice from the Commission and until the Commission informs the licenceholder of the correct treatment in the CRR calculation, the licenceholder must add to its CRR the whole of the exposure on the item concerned.

Provisions.
4. A licenceholder may reduce the exposure on which its CRR is calculated to the extent that it makes provision for a specific counterparty balance.

Associated companies and subsidiaries.
5. For the avoidance of doubt, a licenceholder must calculate a CRR as appropriate on exposures to or from associated companies and subsidiaries.

Basis of valuation.
6. For the purposes of valuing instruments and physical commodities at market value in the calculation of CRR, a licenceholder must be consistent in the basis it chooses and may use either mid market value or bid and offer prices (as appropriate).

Acceptable collateral.
7. A licenceholder may reduce the exposure to a counterparty on which its CRR is calculated to the extent that it holds acceptable collateral from that counterparty.

Nil weighted counterparty exposures.
8. A licenceholder may disregard any counterparty exposure calculated in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 9, if the counterparty is or the contract is guaranteed by or is subject to the full faith and credit of a sovereign government or province or state thereof (or a corporation over 75% owned by such government, province or state), which is a member of the OECD and the government, province, state or corporation has not defaulted, or entered into any rescheduling or similar arrangement, or announced the intention of so doing, in respect of itself or its agency’s debt within the last five years.
Cash against documents transactions

9. (1) A licenceholder which enters into a transaction on a cash against documents basis must calculate the market risk for transactions still unsettled 16 calendar days after settlement date as set out in (2) below and must then multiply this by the appropriate percentage set out in Table A below to calculate a CRR for each separate unsettled transaction.

(2) Market risk calculation:

(a) Where a licenceholder has neither delivered securities nor received payment when purchasing securities for, or selling securities to, a counterparty, the market risk is the excess of the contract value over the market value of the securities.

(b) Where a licenceholder has neither received securities nor made payment when selling securities for, or purchasing securities from, a counterparty, the market risk is the excess of the market value over the contract value of the securities.

(3) The sum of the amounts calculated in accordance with (1) and (2) above is the licenceholder’s total CRR for cash against documents transactions.

Free deliveries of securities

10. (1) When a licenceholder makes delivery to a counterparty of securities without receiving payment or pays for securities without receiving the certificates of good title, the licenceholder must calculate the free delivery value for each transaction.

(2) A licenceholder must calculate the free delivery value for each transaction as set out below and multiply this value by the appropriate percentage in Table B below for free deliveries of securities as follows —

(a) if the licenceholder has delivered securities to a counterparty and has not received payment, the free delivery amount is the full amount due to the licenceholder (i.e. the contract value);

(b) if the licenceholder has made payment to a counterparty for securities and not received the certificates of good title, the free delivery amount is the market value of the securities.
(3) The sum of the amounts calculated in accordance with (1) and (2) above is the licenceholder’s total CRR for free deliveries of securities.

Options purchased for a counterparty

11. (1) Single premium options. Where a licenceholder has purchased a single premium option on behalf of a counterparty and the counterparty has not paid the full option premium cost within three business days after trade date, a licenceholder must calculate a CRR as the amount by which the option premium owed to the licenceholder exceeds the market value of the option or acceptable collateral.

(2) Traditional options. Where a licenceholder has purchased a traditional option for its own account or a counterparty and paid the option premium, it must calculate a CRR equal to the value of the option premium.

(3) The sum of the amounts calculated in accordance with (1) and (2) above is the licenceholder’s CRR in respect of purchased options.

If more than one type of client account is operated then the paragraph must be included but if only general client bank accounts are operated then this paragraph is not required.]

A. What is a client bank account?

A client bank account is a bank account held by, and in the name of, [name of licenceholder] (“us” or “we”) in which we will hold your money on trust for you while it remains in the account. All money held in a client bank account is referred to as client money.

A client bank account is specially created by us for the purpose of holding your money and the money of other clients. The client bank account is segregated from any other bank account in our name holding money which is our money.

All client bank accounts are held at recognised banks. A recognised bank is a bank which holds a licence issued by the Financial Supervision Commission of the Isle of Man for deposit taking or is authorised under the law of another acceptable country or territory to carry on activities corresponding to deposit taking (see rule 3.2 of the Financial Services Rule Book 2013 for the full definition).

In relation to fiduciary services, please note that an account held in the name of your company, or as trustee of your trust, is not a client bank account. It is mandated to your company or the trustee of your trust and the company or the trustee is the legal owner of the money held in that account. As the money in these accounts is not classed as client money the details relating to pooling of money in client bank accounts (as detailed below) do not apply.

B. What different types of client bank accounts are there and what are the differences between them?

There are different types of client bank account. The main difference between the types of client bank account is what happens in the event of a bank failure (i.e. where, as a result of the failure, the client money held by us is insufficient to pay the claims of all clients).

It is therefore important that you understand the risks associated with the different types of client bank account and ensure that we are made aware of your preferences (if any) in this regard.

C. General client bank account

A general client bank account usually holds money of several clients. The money may be held at one bank or the money may be in multiple bank accounts spread across several banks.

In the event of a default of a bank where we have a general client bank account, client monies held in all of our general client bank accounts will be pooled (even if money is held in more than one general client bank account and the accounts are held in more than one bank). In this situation, each client who has money in the general client bank account will lose an equal proportion of their money, whether or not the bank your client money is held with is in default. This loss will be adjusted by any compensation arrangements in place.

D. Specified client bank account

A specified client bank account is a client bank account where —

(i) you have chosen the bank where your money will be held; or

(ii) we have chosen the bank for you and have let you know the name of the bank and the fact that the account is a specified client bank account within five business days of the account being opened.

A specified client bank account is intended to hold client money in a bank selected by you and by other clients. The account will be segregated from any other account holding client money. It will have the word “specified” (or an appropriate abbreviation) in its title.

If your money is held in a specified client bank account and the bank at which that money is held goes into default, the monies will not be pooled with client money held in any other client bank account and you could potentially lose the total amount held at the bank (subject to any compensation arrangements in place). Under the liquidation, or any compensation scheme in place at that time, you may be entitled to claim against the money in the specified client bank account. However, you would not be entitled to claim against any other client bank account (at that or any other bank) in respect of that money.

On the other hand, if your money is held in a specified client bank account at a bank other than the bank which is in default, your money will not be pooled with client money held in any other client bank account (at that or any other bank) and so in the event of default of another bank you would not lose any of your money.

If you want your money to be held in a specified client bank account, you must ask us to open one for you. You may select the bank at which it is opened or, if you would prefer, we may select a bank for you.

E. Client settlement accounts

A client settlement account is a client bank account which is used by us solely to hold the net balance required for the settlement of transactions for clients.

In the event of a default of a bank where we have a client settlement account, client monies held in all of our client settlement accounts will be pooled in a separate pool from other client money. In this situation, if your money is held in a client settlement account you will lose an equal proportion of your money as every other client with money in our client settlement accounts, whether or not the bank that your client money is held with is in default.

Under the liquidation, or any compensation scheme in place at that time, you may be entitled to claim against the money in the client settlement accounts. However, you would not be entitled to claim against any other type of client bank account (at that or any other bank) in respect of your money.

F. Client free money accounts

When we hold your money pending future investment, the money will be held in a client free money account.

A client free money account is a client bank account which is segregated from any account holding clients’ money which is not held for future investment.

In the event of a default of a bank where we have a client free money account, client monies held in all of our client free money accounts will be pooled in a separate pool from other client money. In this situation, if your money is held in a client free money account you will lose an equal proportion of your money as every other client with money in our client free money accounts, whether or not the bank that your client money is held with is in default.

Under the liquidation, or any compensation scheme in place at that time, you may be entitled to claim against the money in the client free money accounts. However, you would not be entitled to claim against any other type of client bank account (at that or any other bank) in respect of your money.
Appendix 6 — Personal account notice (rule 6.33)

1. A licenceholder must ensure that the personal account notice identifies the compliance officer or a specifically designated employee of the licenceholder to be responsible for receiving reports and granting permissions in respect of activities undertaken by its employees in accordance with the personal account notice.

2. The personal account notice must require that an employee —
   (a) does not deal for his own account in investments in which the licenceholder carries on investment business to any material extent, or in any related investments, without the permission of the licenceholder (such permission may be general or specific);
   (b) does not deal in investments for his own account with any of the licenceholder’s customers without the prior consent of the licenceholder;
   (c) reports promptly to the licenceholder in writing any transaction for his own account for which permission is required under (a) above which he enters into otherwise than through the licenceholder unless he has arranged for the licenceholder to receive promptly a copy of the contract or similar note issued in respect of the transaction;
   (d) does not deal for his own account in an investment in circumstances where he knows or should know that the licenceholder intends to publish a written recommendation, or a piece of research or analysis, in respect of that investment or any related investment which could be reasonably expected to affect the price of that investment;
   (e) does not deal for his own account at a time or in a manner which he knows or should know is likely to have a direct adverse effect on the particular interests of any customer of the licenceholder; and
   (f) does not accept any gift or inducement from any person which is likely to conflict with his duties to any customer of the licenceholder.

3. The personal account notice must specify that the references to an employee dealing for his own account include an employee —
   (a) dealing in his capacity as a personal representative of an estate or as a trustee of a trust, in which estate or under which trust there is a significant interest held by the employee, or any associate of the employee, or any company or partnership controlled by him or by any associate of the employee;
(b) otherwise dealing in his capacity as a personal representative or a trustee, unless he is relying entirely on the advice of another person from whom it is appropriate to seek advice in the circumstances; or

(c) dealing for the account of another person unless he does so in the course of his employment with the licenceholder.

4. The personal account notice must further state that, if an employee is precluded from entering into a transaction for his own account, he must not (except in the proper course of his employment) —

(a) procure any other person to enter into such a transaction; or

(b) communicate any information or opinion to any other person if he knows, or has reason to believe, that the person will, as a result, enter into such a transaction, or counsel or procure some other person to do so.

5. Paragraphs 2 and 3 do not apply to —

(a) any transaction by an employee for his own account in a packaged product; and

(b) any discretionary transaction entered into for, and without prior communication with the employee, provided that the discretion is not exercised by the licenceholder.
Appendix 7 — Risk disclosure statement (rule 6.35) – PART 1 — Unregulated collective investment schemes

I. This notice is provided to you as a retail investor in compliance with the Rule Book issued by the Financial Supervision Commission of the Isle of Man. Retail investors are afforded greater protection under those Rules than those classed as professional investors, and you should ensure that the licenceholder with whom you are dealing tells you what this protection is.

II. This notice does not disclose all of the risks relating to unregulated collective investment schemes. Nor does it attempt to define all the relevant terms used, and you should ensure that any terms which you do not understand are fully explained to you before completing this risk disclosure statement. You should not deal in unregulated collective investment schemes, or grant discretion to an investment manager to deal on your behalf in unregulated collective investment schemes, unless you understand the extent of your exposure to risk. You should also be satisfied that such investments are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial position.

III. Retail investors, investing in unregulated collective investment schemes should understand the features and risks attendant to investing in an unauthorised and unapproved scheme and, unless such transactions are undertaken in relation to a discretionary mandate, should have read and fully understood the offering document, including in particular the information on the risks associated with the fund, before deciding to invest in the fund.

IV. Retail investors must personally accept all the risks associated with investment in unregulated collective investment schemes, in particular that the investment involves risks that could result in a loss of a significant proportion or the entire sum invested.

V. Where appropriate, retail investors should take independent advice on the suitability of investment in unregulated collective investment schemes.

Appendix 7 — Risk disclosure statement – Part 2 — Derivatives

I. This notice is provided to you as a retail investor in compliance with the Rule Book issued by the Financial Supervision Commission. Retail investors are afforded greater protection under those Rules than those classed as professional investors, and you should ensure that your Licenceholder tells you what this protection is.

This notice does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of derivatives products such as futures, options and contracts for differences. Nor does it attempt to define all the relevant terms used, and you should ensure that any terms which you do not understand are fully explained to you before completing this risk disclosure statement. You should not deal in derivatives unless you understand the nature of any such contracts that you may be entering into or which may be entered into on your behalf, and the extent of your exposure to risk. You should also be satisfied that such contracts are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial position.

II. Whilst derivatives can in certain circumstances be used for the management of investment risk, some such investments are unsuitable for many investors. Further, strategies intended to reduce risk may be impossible to complete in some market conditions, and so the intended level of protection will not be obtained. You should establish whether this will be a possibility. Your Investment Management Agreement should make it clear whether your Licenceholder may use derivatives on your behalf for speculative purposes, or whether they may only be used to effect an investment strategy of reducing risk.

III. Certain strategies using a combination of instruments, such as those described as “spreads” or “straddles”, may be as risky as – or more risky than – simple “long” or “short” positions. Investors may not only lose their entire capital, but be liable to pay much more. Different instruments involve different levels of exposure to risk, and in deciding whether to trade such instruments you should be aware of the following points —

1. Futures
Transactions in futures involve the obligation to make, or to take, delivery of the underlying asset of the contract at a future date, or in some cases to settle a position with cash. They carry a high degree of risk. The “gearing” or “leverage” often obtainable in futures trading means that a small deposit or down-payment can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small market movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of an investment, and this can work against you as well as for you. Futures transactions carry a contingent liability, and you should be aware of the implications of this, in particular the margining requirements which are set out in paragraph 6 below.
2. Options

There are many different types of options, with different characteristics and subject to different conditions. You should ensure that these characteristics are appropriate to your circumstances; you should also be aware of the relevant expiry dates, after which the rights attached to your options can no longer be exercised.

(a) Buying options: Buying options involves less risk than writing options, because you can simply allow your option to lapse if the price of the underlying asset moves against you. The maximum loss is limited to the cost of the option (the “premium”) you have paid, plus any commission or other transaction charges. However, if you buy a call option on a futures contract, and you later exercise the option, you will acquire the future. This will expose you to the risks described under “Futures” and “Contingent Liability Transactions”.

(b) Writing Options: If you write an option, the risk involved is considerably greater than that involved in buying options. By writing an option, you accept a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset if the option is exercised against you, however far the market price has moved away from the exercise price. You may be liable for margin to maintain your position, and a loss may be sustained well in excess of any premium received. If you already own the underlying asset which you have contracted to sell (this is known as dealing in “covered call options”) the risk is reduced. If you do not own the underlying asset (i.e. you are dealing in “uncovered call options”) the risk can be unlimited. Such transactions are not generally suitable for retail investors and so only experienced persons should contemplate writing uncovered options, and then only after securing full details of the applicable conditions and potential risk exposure.

(c) Traded options are options which are traded on an exchange. There is therefore a market in them and this can be helpful in valuing or liquidating (“closing out”) positions.

(d) Traditional Options: A further type of option known as a “traditional option” is written by certain London Stock Exchange firms under special exchange rules. These may involve greater risk than other options (e.g. Traded Options above). Two way prices are not usually quoted in them, and there is no exchange market on which to close out an open position or to effect an equal and opposite transaction to reverse an open position. It may be difficult to assess the option’s value, or for the seller of such an option to manage his exposure to risk. Certain options markets operate on a margined basis, under which buyers do not pay the full premium on their option at the time they purchase it. In this situation you may subsequently be called upon to pay margin on the option up to the level of your premium. If you fail to do so as required, your position may be closed or liquidated in the same way as a futures position.

3. Contracts for Differences

Futures and options contracts can also be referred to as “Contracts for Differences”. These can include options and futures on the FTSE100 index or any other index, as well as currency and interest rate swaps. However, unlike other futures and options, these contracts can only be settled in cash. Investing in a contract for differences carries the same risk as investing in a future or an option and you should be aware of these as set out in paragraphs 1 and 2, respectively. Transactions in contracts for differences may also have a contingent liability and you should be aware of the implications of this as set out in paragraph 6 below.

4. Off-exchange Transactions in Derivatives

It may not always be apparent whether or not a particular derivative is effected on or off-exchange. Your Licenceholder must make it clear to you if you are entering into an off-exchange derivative transaction, and may only enter into off-exchange transactions which have a contingent liability (see paragraph 6) with your express permission.

While some off-exchange markets are highly liquid, transactions in off-exchange or “non-transferable” derivatives may involve greater risk than investing in on-exchange derivatives because there is no exchange market on which to close out an open position. It may not be possible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of the position arising from an off-exchange transaction or to assess the exposure to risk. Bid and offer prices need not be quoted, and, even where they are, they will be established by dealers in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.

5. Foreign Markets

Foreign markets will involve different risks from UK markets. In some cases the risks will be greater, and moreover timely and accurate information may be harder to obtain. On request, your Licenceholder must provide an explanation of the relevant risks and protections (if any) which will operate in any relevant foreign markets, including the extent to which he will accept liability for any default of a foreign broker through whom he deals. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency denominated contracts will be affected by fluctuations in exchange rates, which may more than wipe out any profits made through the underlying investment.

6. Contingent Liability Transactions

Contingent liability transactions which are “margined” require you to make a series of payments against the purchase price, instead of paying the whole purchase price immediately.

If you trade in futures, contracts for differences or options, you may sustain a total loss of any margin your Licenceholder has deposited on your behalf to establish or maintain a position. If the market moves against you, you may be called upon to pay substantial additional margin at short notice to maintain the position. If you fail to do so within the time required, your position may be liquidated at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit. You should ascertain from your Licenceholder whether he will be liable for any such deficit in the event that he fails to make such payments on your behalf; otherwise, you yourself will be liable.

Even if a transaction is not margined, it may still carry an obligation to make further payments in certain circumstances over and above any amount paid when you entered the contract.

Except in specific circumstances, your Licenceholder may only carry out margined or other contingent liability transactions with or for you if they are traded on or under the rules of a Recognised or Designated Investment Exchange. Contingent liability transactions which are not traded on or under the rules of a Recognised or Designated Investment Exchange may expose you to substantially greater risks.

7. Collateral

If you deposit collateral as security, the way in which it will be treated will vary according to the type of transaction involved and where it is traded. There could be significant differences in the treatment of your collateral depending on whether you are trading on a Recognised or Designated Investment Exchange, with the rules of that exchange (and associated clearing house) applying, or traded off-exchange. Deposited collateral may lose its identity as your property once dealings on your behalf are undertaken. Even if your dealings should ultimately prove profitable, you may not get back the same assets that you deposited and you may have to accept payment in cash instead. You should ascertain from your Licenceholder how your collateral will be dealt with.

8. Commissions

Before you begin to trade, your Licenceholder should explain to you in writing details of all commissions and other charges for which you will be liable. If any charges are not expressed in money terms (but, for example, as a percentage of the contract value), this should include a clear written explanation, including appropriate examples, to establish what such charges are likely to mean in specific money terms. In the case of futures, when commission is charged as a percentage, it will normally be as a percentage of the total contract value and not simply as a percentage of your initial payment.

9. Suspensions of Trading

Under certain trading conditions it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange, trading is suspended or restricted. Placing a “stop-loss” order will not necessarily limit your losses to the intended amounts, because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such an order at the stipulated price.
10. Clearing House Protections

On many exchanges, the performance of a transaction by your Licenceholder (or the third party with whom he is dealing on your behalf) is “guaranteed” by the exchange or its clearing house. However, this guarantee is unlikely in most circumstances to cover you, the retail investor, and may not protect you if the Licenceholder or another party defaults on its obligations to you. On request, your Licenceholder must explain any protection provided to you under the clearing agreement applicable to any on-exchange derivatives in which you are dealing. There is no clearing house for traditional options, nor normally for off-exchange instruments which are not traded on or under the rules of a Recognised or Designated Investment Exchange.

11. Insolvency

The Rule Book provides for the segregation of Client Money and Clients Investments from the “own funds” of a Licenceholder acting on behalf of clients. Nonetheless, your Licenceholder’s insolvency or default, or that of any broker involved with your transaction, may lead to positions being liquidated or closed out without your consent. In certain circumstances, you may not get back the actual assets which you lodged as collateral and you may have to accept any available payment in cash (which may not cover the sum in full). On request, your Licencetholder must provide an explanation of the extent to which he will accept liability for any insolvency of, or default by, any brokers involved with your transactions.

Appendix 7 — Risk disclosure statement – Part 3 — Warrants

This notice is provided to you as a retail investor in compliance with the Rule Book issued by the Financial Supervision Commission. Retail investors are afforded greater protection under those Rules than those classed as professional investors, and you should ensure that your Licenceholder tells you what this protection is.

This notice does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of warrants; nor does it attempt to define all the relevant terms used, and you should ensure that any terms which you do not understand are fully explained to you before completing this Risk Disclosure Statement. You should not deal in warrants unless you understand the nature of any transaction that you may enter, or which may be entered into on your behalf, and the extent of your exposure to potential loss.

You should also consider carefully whether warrants are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial position. In deciding whether or not to trade, you should be aware of the following matters:

Warrants

A warrant is a right to subscribe for shares, debentures, loan stock or government securities, and is exercisable against the original issuer of the securities. Warrants often involve a high degree of gearing, so that a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying security results in a disproportionately large movement in the price of the warrant. The prices of warrants can therefore be very volatile. You also need to take into account the fact that warrants have expiry dates, after which the rights attached to them can no longer be exercised.

You should not buy warrants unless you are prepared to sustain a total loss of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges.

Some other instruments are also called warrants, but are actually options; for example, a right to acquire securities which is exercisable against someone other than the original issuer of the securities (often called a “covered warrant”).

Off-exchange Transactions

Transactions in off-exchange warrants may involve greater risk than those in exchange-traded warrants because there is no exchange market on which to liquidate your position, to assess the value of the warrant or to assess the exposure to risk. Bid and offer prices need not be quoted, and, even where they are, they will be established by dealers in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.

Your Licenceholder must make it clear to you if you are entering into an off-exchange transaction and advise you of any risks involved.
Foreign Markets

Foreign markets will involve different risks from UK markets. In some cases the risks will be greater and further, timely and accurate information may be harder to obtain. On request, your Licenceholder must provide an explanation of the relevant risks and protections (if any) which will operate in any relevant foreign markets, including the extent to which he will accept liability for any default of a foreign broker through whom he deals. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency denominated contracts will be affected by fluctuations in exchange rates, which may more than wipe out any profits made through the underlying investment.

Commissions

Before you begin to trade, your Licenceholder should explain to you in writing details of all commissions and other charges for which you will be liable. If any charges are not expressed in money terms (but, for example, as a percentage of the transaction value), this should include a clear written explanation, including appropriate examples, to establish what such charges are likely to mean in specific money terms.
